

AFC Fylde Football Stadium

Mill Farm is a multi-million pound Sports Village and the new home to the rising football team AFC Fylde.

The state-of-the-art 6,000-seater stadium has been developed to offer fans facilities on par with the best Premier League clubs. PAS Sound were approached during the design phase to work with the appointed M&E contractor to design and develop a stadium public address and voice evacuation system.

After employing computer modelling for the main stand coverage, PAS selected products from major manufacturers to meet the performance and compliance aspects.

The PAVA equipment racks were built and tested by PAS at our workshops before being shipped to site for installation onto site cabling. Linked to the fire alarm system, the PAVA provides voice evacuation through the loudspeaker network with pre-recorded messages. During matches the stadium standing and seating areas receive music and messages from the stadium announcer.

The system was commissioned in time for use on the initial home game in August 2016.
