

This busy distribution centre in the West Midlands is one of a number of hubs for the John Lewis organisation online web sales network. Covering 230,000 ft² with both wide and narrow racking, the requirement was for an effective sound system to cover the warehouse area with background music and announcements.

PAS were given a narrow window for installation due to the impending busy pre-Christmas period, so two of our installation teams worked side by side in the busy and cramped building to carry out the installation in a very short timescale. Hampered by very narrow aisles and a 15m working height, we managed to manoeuvre powered access machines delicately between the racking and complete the works in just a couple of very long days.

Music from a DAB/FM tuner was provided along with a microphone at security for announcements. A further addition was a tone generator and electronic timer to signal shift changes and break times across the large warehouse. Another successful warehouse installation by PAS.
